

Developing Great Crew Leaders Online Workshop

03.26.20

8:00a - 12:00p

They say that people don't quit companies, they quit their supervisors. Crew leaders not only have a direct impact on the performance of jobs, they have a direct impact on employee retention.

Every crew leader has the potential to become a great crew leader. In other words, companies don't need to find great crew leaders, they need to develop their existing crew leaders.

The heart of the workshop is the Great Crew Leader Scoring Guide. This is a five-part assessment for each crew leader and manager to complete during the workshop. Each part covers one of the five primary roles of a crew leader: worker, driver, supervisor, trainer, and leader. This scoring guide then becomes an excellent tool for reassessment and continued improvement.
